Dr. Bodine is an Associate Professor and Section Head of the Department of Physical Medicine and Rehabilitation at the University of Colorado Health Science Center and is the Executive Director at Assistive Technology Partners.

Bodine is internationally recognized for her leadership in the field of assistive technology and vigorously pursues her passions for new product design, research, service to families and persons with disabilities, and the professional assistive technology community at large through her leadership of Assistive Technology Partners. She has served as the principal investigator (PI) for a number of pre-service professional preparation grants, as well as for the Colorado Assistive Technology Act. In addition, she has served as the PI for several research and development projects leading to new designs in AT devices. Bodine is the principal investigator for the Rehabilitation Engineering Research Center for Advancing Cognitive Technologies (RERC-ACT). She is also leading a U.S. Department of Education funded Field Initiated Development Project utilizing the International Classification of Functioning to measure assistive technology outcomes. Bodine served as the secretary for the board of directors of the Rehabilitation Engineering Society of North America (RESNA); she is a member of the NCTI Advisory Board.
